

New Team for Coordination of Computing Time Allocation located at JSC

Two new members have joined the team coordinating computing time allocation at Jülich Supercomputing Centre.

The new head of the Coordination Office for the Allocation of Computing Time is Dr. Florian Janetzko. Florian Janetzko studied Chemistry at the University of Hannover. He received his PhD in Theoretical Chemistry in 2003. After post-doctoral stays at CINVESTAV (Mexico City, Mexico), University of Calgary (Canada) and University of Bonn (Germany), he joined JSC's Application Support Division in 2008 as a member of the Cross-Sectional Team Application Optimization. He has been involved, among other things, in support and teaching activities as well as in the European Projects DEISA and PRACE [1] as the person locally responsible for the DECI calls.

Dr. Alexander Schnurpfel is the new Scientific Secretary of the John von Neumann Institute for Computing (NIC) [2]. He is the successor of Dr. Manfred Kremer, who retired from this position end of March 2016. Alexander Schnurpfel studied Chemistry at the Universities of Leipzig, Bonn and Siegen and received his PhD in Theoretical Chemistry from the University of Cologne in 2006. After a post-doctoral stay at the University of Cologne, he worked as a software developer and teacher. He joined JSC in 2008, also in the Application Support division, where he was, among other duties, responsible for user support for the HPC-FF cluster and was local coordinator of the PRACE Preparatory Access Calls.

Dr. Florian Janetzko is the new Head of the Coordination Office for the Allocation of Computing Time.

The new Scientific Secretary of the John von Neumann Institute for Computing, Dr. Alexander Schnurpfel.

References

- [1] <http://www.prace-ri.eu/>
- [2] http://www.john-von-neumann-institut.de/nic/EN/Home/home_node.html

contacts:
Florian Janetzko,
Alexander Schnurpfel,
nic@fz-juelich.de

- Alexander Schnurpfel
- Florian Janetzko

Jülich
Supercomputing
Centre (JSC),
Germany